FLOOD OF BILLS IN THE HOUSE

More Than a Hundred Measures Presented.

LAST DAY FOR INTRODUCTION

Total of Bills Introduced in the Lower House of the Legislature is One Thousand, One Hundred and Seventy-three—Midnight Lid Bill Again Makes Its Appearance—Sixty-Day Limit Proposed for Legislative Session.

St. Paul, March 30.—All the woodchucks, joke bills, hobbies, salary bills and biennial bills and other bills that had not been introduced previously in the house this session were introduced on the last day for introducing bills and the house, besides introducing sixty-seven bills in the afternoon, held a special session in the evening and introduced thirty-four more, making a total of 1,173 for the session. Two years ago the number was 1,174 for the same time.

John McGrath of Barnesville introduced a bill giving wives, children and other dependents the right to sue saloonkeepers and their sureties for any damage they may suffer, either to their person, property or by loss of support caused by their husbands or supporters being drunk.

The midnight lid bill, which was killed, exhumed and buried again by the house some weeks ago, was reintroduced by J. D. O'Brien of St. Paul and M. D. Sullivan of Minneapolis.

A constitutional amendment limiting the session of the legislature to sixty days was introduced by John F. Selb and T. J. Brady of St. Paul.

A board of soda fountain inspectors is provided in a bill by M. J. Sullivan and E. F. Sabler of Minneapolis. There are to be three members of the board with a deputy in every county.

A plumbing inspector at $1,800 with a deputy at $1,500 is provided for each city of 50,000 in a bill by W. G. Rodenberg of St. Paul.

To Limit House Expenditure.

A bill limiting the daily expenditure of the house for salaries of employees to $225 was introduced by Kerry Conley of Rochester. He says that his bill would save the state over $10,000 each session.

Court commissioners must be learned in the law, under a bill by J. A. Dalzell of Morton.

St. Paul and other large cities are authorized to condemn land for docks, wharves, canals and harbors in a bill by O. F. Christensen of St. Paul.

The terms of the county auditor and treasurer in Ramsey and Hennepin are made four years in a bill by E. F. Perry of St. Paul.

Robbery in the first degree, which includes holdups, is to be punished by twenty-five to fifty years' imprisonment, under a bill by Frank Nimocks of Minneapolis.

The regulation of salary and chattel mortgage loaning companies is provided in a bill by W. D. Washburn, Jr. of Minneapolis. The maximum interest is 2 per cent per month.

The heirs of Charles Bazile are permitted to bring suit to establish their ownership to the land on which the old capital stands, in a bill by John Selb of St. Paul.

The salary of the secretary of the state highway commission is raised from $1,800 to $3,000 in a bill by John Zeltch of Washington county.

The state auditor is allowed to sell state land to the state board of control for state institutions, under a bill by H. P. Webb of Sandstone. This is intended mostly for the purpose of allowing the proposed state inebriate asylum to be located on state land.

A reapportionment bill by L. H. Johnson of Minneapolis providing for 65 senators and 127 representatives, together with various reapportionment bills pertaining only to small districts, were introduced.

Women Cannot Hold Saloon Licenses.

A bill prohibiting women from holding saloon licenses was introduced by G. H. Hattson of Roseau. This is to prevent saloonkeepers who have their licenses revoked from turning them over to their wives.

A universal license law for hunters was introduced by L. D. Brown of Little Falls and others. At present hunters may hunt in their own county without a license. The bill requires them to have a license to hunt anywhere except on their own farms.

Correspondence courses for the farmers with home lectures and farmhouse meetings, won only after a hard fight in committee of the whole of the senate. The bill was amended, cutting the appropriation to $50,000 for the two years.

To take the place of the Cashman distance tariff bill, which the senate killed the other day on the plea that such legislation would interfere with the present rate cases, a bill was introduced by Senators Works, Hall and Canfield permitting the railway commission to issue orders for preferential rates on coal and lumber and other articles.

Suffragists and suffragettes may now mingle their wrath at the state senate. In committee of the whole the body killed Senator Sageng's bill proposing a constitutional amendment to enable women to vote.

UNKNOWN ROBBER WOUNDED

Justice of the Peace Shoots Highwayman at Wilson, Pa.

Pittsburg, March 30.—An unknown man was shot and mortally wounded by Justice of the Peace William Patterson at Wilson, near here, while a posse is pursuing two other men believed to have been members of a gang of highwaymen who held up several persons at Wilson. The man was shot in a pitched battle with officers after they had caught three men in the act of robbing a victim. It is believed that at least one other highwayman was wounded.

Justice of the Peace Patterson and Special Officer John W. White heard of the holdups and started to round up the gang. They came across three men robbing another in the Pittsburg, Virginia and Charleston railroad yards. The men ran, the officers started in pursuit and the fleeing men opened fire.

A posse started in pursuit of those who escaped. They are aided by a posse of citizens and a battle will be fought as soon as the men are caught unless they surrender. Justice Patterson was clubbed over the head with a revolver and badly hurt.

IN ORDER TO SAVE HUSBAND

Mrs. Mary Farmer Left a Confession Exonerating Him.

Auburn, N. Y., March 30.—Hoping that she might save her husband from the fate that befell her, Mrs. Mary Farmer, convicted of killing Mrs. Sarah Brennan last April in Brownville, left a confession, made public after her execution by electricity in Auburn prison. In this she declared that her husband, James Farmer, now under sentence to death, was not guilty of the crime and knew nothing of it until it had been committed. Farmer is in the state prison here.

Three contacts were given Mrs. Farmer before she was officially pronounced dead. The woman walked quietly to the death chamber and died with a prayer on her lips. A few hours before she had over an hour's interview with her husband. Steel bars and a screen separated them at the final parting.

While the physicians were removing the dead woman's clothing preliminary to the autopsy, the photograph of the two-year-old son of the couple, Peter Farmer, now with his uncle in Watertown, N. Y., was found under the corse of Mrs. Farmer's dress. The condemned woman had told Father Hickey, her spiritual adviser, to whom her public confession was made, that she had no relative that she knew of. After the autopsy Mrs. Farmer, with the photograph of her child clasped in her hands, was buried in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Warden Benham sent the usual telegram to the governor of the state informing him that the execution had been successful.

BEFORE PRESIDENT TAFT

Hearing of Porto Rico's Political Trouble Will Be Held.

Washington, March 30.—As the result of a two-hour conference between Secretary of the Interior Ballinger and representatives of the executive council and of the house of delegates of Porto Rico, a hearing of the political troubles in the island probably will be held before President Taft.

Each house claims that the other is to blame for the fact that no legislative bill was passed and no money appropriated at the recent session.

Secretary Ballinger informed the Porto Ricans that he would not recommend the consideration of any enlarged measure of local self-government for the islanders as the result of a threat on the part of the lower house to force that extension by a failure on their part to co-operate with the executive council.

Gans Has Tuberculosis.

Denver, March 30.—Joe Gans, former world's champion lightweight pugilist, has developed tuberculosis of the lungs and may never again be seen in the ring. Referee Charlie White is quoted as being responsible for the statement.

MRS. BOYLE MAY NOT BE PUNISHED

Believed Woman Soon Will Be Given Her Freedom.

NO EVIDENCE AGAINST HER

Authorities Lack Proof That She Was Connected With the Kidnapping of Willie Whittle—James Boyle Taken to Sharon for His Preliminary Hearing—Prisoner Feared Mob Violence.

Mercer, Pa., March 30.—The preliminary hearing in Sharon and safe return to the Mercer jail of James H. Boyle and a report that his woman companion may entirely escape prison and soon regain her liberty are the latest developments in the Whittle kidnapping case.

No one but James Boyle had any fears for his safety when he was taken to Sharon for arraignment, but he was badly frightened. Nervously begging the officers for protection, he faced a crowd of hundreds of persons attracted merely by curiosity and is happier in his cell than he has been since his arrest. Dreading the return to his home town, Boyle was nervous all night and slept little. He was scarcely able to murmur the words waiving a hearing in the courtroom and almost collapsed at the station when 500 persons surrounded the patrol wagon where he was awaiting the arrival of the train for Mercer. Although the weather was cold, he wiped big beads of perspiration from his forehead when the train pulled out and he told the sheriff he was thankful to be back in his cell again.

The opinion is spreading among the people of this county that Mrs. Boyle will not be prosecuted, but that she soon will be entirely eliminated from the case and be allowed to depart. There is said to be no local proof whatever to connect her with the abduction, and as she absolutely refuses to aid the local authorities in the least, the supposition is that she will soon be free. This is borne out by the delay in arraigning her. Although it was positively stated by the district attorney that "they" would take her to Sharon today for formal arraignment, it was later stated the trip to Sharon had been abandoned for the present and that Mrs. Boyle had agreed not to demand an early hearing. It is said her prosecution is not eagerly desired by Mrs. Whittle, whose wishes are likely to be respected. No results are known of the attempt to locate the alleged accomplices and it looks as though Boyle is to be made to bear the entire punishment for the abduction.

MRS. BOYLE MAY BE SET FREE

Claimed She Had No Part in Kidnapping of Willie Whittle.

Pittsburg, March 30.—News that Mrs. Boyle may never be brought to trial for her alleged part in the abduction of Willie Whittle was received here with interest. Detective Harry Perkins, who has been active in the case, says the woman will have a plausible defense.

"From what Mrs. Boyle told me," he said, "I believe she will have a straightforward story to tell on the stand. She will say that she had been ill for two or three weeks previous to the kidnapping of the boy and that her husband, Jimmie Boyle, had come to see her and told her that the boy had been placed in their care by his father. Her story, I think, will continue that she understood the boy had been exposed to smallpox and that they were to get a large sum of money from the father for taking care of it. She explains that when she received the money there was no place else to hide it and she concealed it in her clothes. She says she knew nothing of the kidnapping, having seen no newspapers."

TWO OF THE BANDITS CAUGHT

One of Them So Badly Wounded He May Not Recover.

Trenton, Mo., March 30.—Every road within a radius of fifteen miles of this city is being watched in an effort to capture the last of the three robbers who looted a number of stores in Spickard, twelve miles north of here, and seriously wounded Marshal George Caraway in a fight at Jamesport. Two of the men have been captured. One is wounded and may not recover.

The fight at Jamesport occurred when the robbers got off a freight train there after leaving Spickard on a night car. A posse was organized after Caraway had been shot and after a short chase engaged in a battle with the bandits. Two were caught.

TARIFF QUESTION AGAIN DISCUSSED

House Members Criticise the Payne Measure.

Washington, March 30.—The tariff question was again discussed in the house of representatives in a ten and a half hour session. Not one of the many speakers favored the Payne bill in its entirety, while the Democrats found much in it to criticize and condemn. The maximum and minimum features of the proposed measure were especially obnoxious to them, while Republicans urged higher duties on lumber, iron, pottery and zinc ore as well as a duty on coal.

Mr. Moon of Tennessee scathingly denounced those of his Democratic colleagues who adopted the caucus resolution disciplining the twenty-three Democrats who supported the Fitzgerald amendments to the rules, furnishing the only exciting incident.

Those who spoke on the tariff were Messrs. James of Kentucky, Cushman of Washington, Kennedy of Ohio, Gillette of Massachusetts, Scott of Kansas, Peters of Massachusetts, DeKam of Michigan and Hull of Tennessee.

AROUSED SPIRITED DEBATE

Resolution Introduced in the Senate by Senator Hale.

Washington, March 30.—In the senate Senator Hale, chairman of the Republican caucus, introduced a resolution to confine the business of the extra session to the consideration of the tariff and the bill providing for the thirteenth census, but he afterwards amended it so as to permit the introduction of bills and the transaction of executive business.

Contrary to expectations the resolution aroused a spirited discussion, but the debate dealt with other subjects than the limitation of business. Apparently there was no objection to such a limitation, but the measure went over until Thursday to allow further consideration of the question.

During the session Senator Elkins of West Virginia took occasion to criticize the distribution of the finance committee, declaring that while New England has three members on the committee the South had been entirely denied representation.

Fistic Repartee.

She pouted, withdrawing her hand. "I'll button it myself," she said. "You'd never make a scrapper. You're too awkward with the gloves."

"But see how neatly I can land one on the mouth," he said, suiting the action to the word.

Then he heard her father approaching and displayed some marvelously clever and swift footwork.—New York Press.

ANTI-RUSSIAN DISORDERS

Cossacks Will Be Sent to Suppress Them in Persia.

St. Petersburg, March 30.—The Russian consul at Meshed, a holy city of Northeastern Persia, where anti-Russian disorders have broken out, has telegraphed for troops to strengthen the guard at the consulate and protect the lives and property of Russians. A detachment of Cossacks probably will be sent across the frontier.

The revolutionary movement in this part of Persia is largely controlled by the journalist and soldier of fortune, Panoff, who was expelled from Teheran by the Russian consul at the shah's request for sending out discreditable dispatches concerning the monarch. Since Panoff has openly joined the revolutionists. A few weeks ago he appeared at Rescht and took command of the Nationalist forces, announcing his intention of marching on Teheran and dethroning the shah. He disappeared upon the arrival at Resht of the Russian Cossacks with artillery, but reappeared at Astrakan on March 26 with fifty followers and took possession of the town in the name of the Nationalists. The inhabitants gave him an enthusiastic welcome.

ROBBERS MAKE RICH HAUL

Obtain Fifty Thousand Dollars in Mail Pouches.

Georgetown, Ky., March 30.—A daring mail pouch robbery in which the alleged thieves secured probably more than $50,000 in currency and checks was made public by the local post-office officials when iron and charred leather of two pouches were found by a boy near the crane from which they had been taken. Checks to the amount of $38,000 addressed to A. L. Ferguson, president of the Burley Tobacco Society board of control, are said to be among the stolen property.

According to the officials, one pouch was stolen on Friday and the other on Saturday.

SUFFRAGE LEADER IS BUSY

Mrs. Catt, Head of the Movement, Speaks to German Women.

Berlin, March 29.—In an effort to rouse the women of Germany to greater interest in the worldwide movement for woman suffrage Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, the president of the International Woman Suffrage alliance, spoke today to a great mass meeting of women in this city.

Mrs. Catt's appearance here was part of her programme leading to the alliance meeting in London the latter part of next month. She has been touring Germany and parts of Austria-Hungary in behalf of the suffrage cause and reports gains in many sections.

The suffrage movement is backward in Germany, owing to laws which have long debarred women from political activity of any sort. The suffrage cause has heretofore been supported only by the Social Democratic party, which makes equal suffrage for both sexes one of its regular platform planks.

NOTABLE DEBATE IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

British Naval Policy the Subject of Discussion.

London, March 30.—By a strict party vote of 253 to 151 the house of commons refused to express lack of confidence in the government's naval policy. The motion on which the notable debate hinged set forth "that in the opinion of this house the declared policy of his majesty's government respecting the immediate provision for battleships of the newest type does not sufficiently secure the safety of the empire."

The result of the vote on the question was expected, but the debate preceding it was one of the most momentous the house has listened to for years. The assembly of diplomats and peers testified to its international as well as domestic importance. A. J. Balfour and Mr. Lee accused the cabinet of incompetency and demanded that eight Dreadnoughts be laid down immediately. Premier Asquith and Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, reproached their opponents for making a party question of the most vital matter of the country's foreign relations.

Secretary Grey's speech was by far the most notable contribution to the debate because of its remarkable candor. "He dwelt on the diplomatic aspects of the British-German rivalry and the hopelessness of expecting any cessation of the race for armaments and he predicted eventual European bankruptcy if it continued. After his exposition of the government's policy, the speeches from the opposition benches seemed half-hearted."

NOTABLE DEBATE IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

British Naval Policy the Subject of Discussion.

London, March 30.—By a strict party vote of 353 to 151 the house of commons refused to express lack of confidence in the government's naval policy. The motion on which the notable debate hinged set forth "that in the opinion of this house the declared policy of his majesty's government respecting the immediate provision for battleships of the newest type does not sufficiently secure the safety of the empire."

The result of the vote on the question was expected, but the debate preceding it was one of the most momentous the house has listened to for years. The assembly of diplomats and peers testified to its international as well as domestic importance. A. J. Balfour and Mr. Lee accused the cabinet of incompetency and demanded that eight Dreadnoughts be laid down immediately. Premier Asquith and Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, reproached their opponents for making a party question of the most vital matter of the country's foreign relations.

Secretary Grey's speech was by far the most notable contribution to the debate because of its remarkable candor. He dwelt on the diplomatic aspects of the British-German rivalry and the hopelessness of expecting any cessation of the race for armaments and he predicted eventual European bankruptcy if it continued. After his exposition of the government's policy, the speeches from the opposition benches seemed half-hearted.

The people of Brainerd, without regard to party, admire Mayor Edward Crust for the stand he has taken in the interest of safe city government, and his friends can do no better than follow him in his support of D. M. Clark for mayor. 1t

A certain family residing on the north side, a member of which has been twice in the municipal court and had a fine paid for him on the charge of stealing fuel, is said to have adopted another way of living off the public. For some time parties, reported to be members of this family have been borrowing promiscuously, in some instances having stated that Mrs. John Mann had sent them to borrow bread, butter, etc. Mr. Mann says they are not in the borrowing business and anyone pretending to come from them should be refused. It is probable that they have used the names of other well known families who are known to keep servants, to assist them in their endeavors to procure a livelihood without the necessary exertion to earn it.

ADMIRAL CONVERSE IS DEAD

Was President of the Board of Construction of the Navy.

Washington, March 30.—Rear Admiral George A. Converse died at his home here of uraemic poisoning. Although placed on the retired list several years ago, he was in active service at the time of his death, being president of the board of construction of the navy.

It was under him as chief of the bureau of navigation that the battleship fleet of sixteen vessels which recently circled the globe was assembled. Previous to this he was head of the bureau of ordnance. His service to the navy was largely identified with torpedoes and torpedo boats.

A prominent naval officer in speaking of Admiral Converse declared that his influence in the navy had been far-reaching and that his career was in some ways without parallel, one of these being that he served as head of three important bureaus.

His wife, who was a Miss Blood of New York, and his two unmarried daughters, Maud and Olga, were with him when he died. Two other daughters survive, Mrs. Colt of Bristol, R. I., and Mrs. Jackson of Baltimore, the latter a bride of January last.

Admiral Converse was born in Norwich, Vt., in 1844, graduated at Annapolis in 1865 at the head of his class, and during the Spanish-American war commanded the cruiser Montgomery.

The curse of Municipal Government in America today is partisanship in Municipal elections. The real issue of the election next Tuesday is whether the City of Brainerd is to be controlled by the party bound together by ties stronger than any ever used by any political party in America, or will we have for a Mayor a man nominated by no political party, but by the people. When you vote remember D. M. Clark has no party organization to build up at the expense of efficiency in office as has candidate Ousdahl of the socialist party. 1t

Another Kidnapping Case.

Chicago, March 27.—A new kidnapping case developed here. The victim is Harold Moon, the ten-year-old son of Lyman H. Moon of Flint, Mich. He was stolen from his home on Feb. 27. Mrs. W. H. Frost, a friend of the Moon family, called at detective headquarters here and said there was reason to think the child was hidden in Chicago.

The socialist claim D. M. Clark cannot be elected because he has no "ORGANIZATION" behind him. What have the "ORGANIZATIONS" done for cities like Pittsburgh, San Francisco, St. Louis, and Minneapolis? Do you want an "ORGANIZATION" man at the head of Brainerd government, and let it develop into what it has in the cities named? If not, vote and work for D. M. Clark. 1t

MACHINISTS MAY STRIKE

Canadian Pacific Employees May Quit Work.

Winnipeg, Man., March 30.—Alarming reports are current that another big strike of machinists on the Canadian Pacific is imminent. The company, it appears, refuses to negotiate jointly with the men on the Eastern and Western systems and as that is strongly favored by the men, a deadlock has been reached in negotiations.

More delegates have arrived from Far Eastern and Western points, and Grant Hall, head of the mechanical department in the West for the company, who was summoned to Montreal a few days ago, wired a very discouraging telegram.

The present schedule expires in a few days and the new one must be at once agreed upon. If the men strike this time they will have the backing of the American Federation of Labor, with whom they affiliated this winter, and will be in a better position to secure funds to fight the company. Some 12,000 men will be involved from Moncton, N. B., to Vancouver.

Preventives—those Candy Cold Cure Tablets—will safely and quickly check all colds and the Grip. Try them once and see! 48-25c. Sold by H. P. Dunn. t t

Her One Desire.

The pensioned off "faithful nurse" in an aristocratic family took a mournful pleasure in keeping the "In Memoriam" cards which were from time to time sent her. On one occasion "the daughter of the house," visiting the old lady's cottage, noticed the collection so ostentatiously displayed. "Ah, yes, miss, I keeps 'em all!" said the aged nurse. "I've got your pore par's and your sainted mar's and your brother William's and your sister Carry's, and if I only had yours I think I could die 'appy!"—London Standard.

The pensioned off "faithful nurse" in an aristocratic family took a mournful pleasure in keeping the "In Memoriam" cards which were from time to time sent her. On one occasion "the daughter of the house," visiting the old lady's cottage, noticed the collection so ostentatiously displayed. "Ah, yes, miss, I keeps 'em all!" said the aged nurse. "I've got your pore par's and your sainted mar's and your brother William's and your sister Carry's, and if I only had yours I think I could die 'appy!"—London Standard.

MAY RAISE THE CLUB DUES

The Club Considers Proposition to Increase Dues of Members

The Commercial club held a special meeting Monday evening to consider the future of the club. An amendment to the by-laws raising the dues from $5 per year to $25 per year was presented and a special meeting will be called for the near future for the consideration of the proposed change. There is no question but that increase of the amount of dues is imperative, but there may be some question as to the amount fixed. There are over 30 members who have expressed their willingness to pay $25 per year and this amount is sufficient to assure the continuance of the club.

The club also passed a resolution to be sent to the Senators from Minnesota and to the congressman from this district protesting against the placing of iron ore on the free list. The resolution was presented by Dr. Werner Hemstead, a lifelong democrat, and was passed by an unanimous vote of the club. Dr. Hemstead, in proposing the resolution, said that perhaps it might come with better grace from a republican, but he believed it was a matter which vitally affected the interests of Northern Minnesota and Crow Wing county.

Of "The Wolf," Eugene Walter's famous and successful drama which comes to the opera house tonight, much has been written of a laudatory nature by the critics, and particularly of the intense and novel climax to each of its three acts. The close of the last act, especially is declared to be one of the most unique and striking seen in a number of years.

Bijou

Chas. and Madeline Dunbar, who appeared at this popular place of amusement for the first time last night, presenting their own original one act playlet, "Father and the Girl," scored a tremendous hit. Miss Dunbar is as pretty as a picture and magnetic and her impersonations of a child are most remarkable. She also possesses a very pretty voice which she uses to great advantage in her songs and duets. Chas. Dunbar the male member of the team is a big good natured fellow and the moment he appears the audience greet him with a smile. He has an operatic baritone voice of the sterling quality scoring heavily in his big song "I Want What I Want When I Want It." He is an imitable imitator of animals, which brought round after round of applause.

Mayor Hemstead desires THE DISPATCH to state that he will not under any circumstances be a candidate for re-election to the position which he now occupies. LIKE FINDING MONEY

H. P. Dunn, the popular druggist, is making an offer that is just like finding money for he is selling regular 50-cent bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half-price. In addition to this large discount he agrees to return the money to any purchaser whom the specific does not cure.

It is only recently, through the solicitation of Druggist H. P. Dunn that this medicine could be bought for less than fifty cents, he urged the proprietors to allow him to sell it at this reduced price for a little while, agreeing to sell a certain amount. This result has justified his good judgment for the sale has been something remarkable.

Anyone who suffers with headache, dyspepsia, dizziness, sour stomach, specks before the eyes, or any liver trouble, should take advantage of this opportunity, for Dr. Howard's specific will cure all these diseases. But if by any chance it should not, H. P. Dunn will return your money.

Says Bank Will Open

The Little Falls Herald is authority for the following statement:

"The Security State Bank of Brainerd will re-open its doors and resume business on April 6th, after being closed 90 days because of a large amount of paper signed by Andy Jones which it had taken as collateral for loans, and which became worthless when Jones, who was president of the Barton, N. D., bank, disappeared.

"The loss has been made good by a number of the directors of the bank, and none of the depositors of the bank will lose a cent. With the exception of a few changes in the make-up of the board of directors, the bank resumes business under the old management, President J. H. Guerin and Cashier E. A. Storck retaining their offices.

S. Trebby of this city has returned from a several days business trip in Brainerd, and states that all those whom he had occasion to interview during his stay in Brainerd expressed confidence in the Security State bank and that they expected the bank to be a success.

"The Challenge"

Editor Daily Dispatch and Fellow Citizens:

"What He Really Would Do If Elected Mayor" seems to be the "paramount" question in yesterday's communication submitted by Mr. A. J. Halsted.

I will repeat in part what I said in my previous communication—"To the Citizens of Brainerd, I will say that if elected, I will appoint the Very Best Men Obtainable, on various public boards." I believe the average citizens, as well as the "intelligent" can understand this language. It includes every party and every citizen in Brainerd. I said further—"We want men who will work for the Best Interests of the City of Brainerd, and not for the 'interest' of a few."

In Mr. Halsted's editorial (Mayor Appoints Public Boards), he says—"With the problem of public ownership of the water supply and other public utilities confronting us we cannot afford to elect a mayor who 'WILL APPOINT' inexperienced and untried men to these responsible positions." Mr. Halsted: Do not dodge this question—Who said that I "will appoint" inexperienced and untried men to these responsible positions?

In your last communication you also say "The writer (A. J. Halsted) was told by gentlemen whose mere unsupported word is of more weight than a stack of Mr. Ousdahl's ever ready, and accommodatingly elastic affidavit, that when the question was pressed upon him as to these appointments he reluctantly admitted that he would be compelled to select men from his own political party. And finally, active and influential members of the Socialist party, who are supporting Mr. Ousdahl's candidacy for mayor have assured me of the truth of this."

Mr. Halsted:—I only ask a fair treatment so do not dodge the question—Who made the above assertion? I say it is not true, and the public should know the facts.

Yours respectfully,

A. OUSDDHL.

Trebby Says Boycott

The Little Falls Transcript says:

"A boycott" is said to be in progress in the fuel line at Brainerd and as the result the S. Trebby Fuel company is unable to get a new supply of coal. S. Trebby, of this city, who recently purchased the H. H. Hitch Fuel company, has never joined the Fuel Dealers' association. This association which is made up of fuel dealers in this state and the Dakotas, governs the price of coal and all members abide by the price set. When Mr. Trebby went into the fuel business at Brainerd, he dropped the price on coal on all cash orders and failed to join the dealers' association. His supply of some kinds of coal is now nearly exhausted and he finds that he is unable to replenish the nearly empty bins, for when he ordered a quantity of coal from a Duluth firm he was informed that his order could not be filled at the present time. He was also given a tip that non-association members find some difficulty in obtaining this particular kind of fuel.

Automobile Course For Farmers.

That agricultural colleges and schools are now giving courses in automobile matters to their students as part of the curriculum which is to prepare them for their practical duties in life constitutes a prophecy of how large the part of the motor car will be in farm life of the future, and also indicates the present interest which the more enterprising farmers feel in the motor propelled vehicle. Short course students at the Iowa State College at Des Moines, whose studies are chiefly on agricultural subjects, are to have an automobile lecturer from a representative of an automobile company in Kenosha, Wis., while the Michigan State Agricultural School at Lansing, Mich., is to have a special course of instruction on automobile operation and repair.

One of the photographs is that of a Boer shell in flight. He hopes this time to get a photograph of the dreaded tsetse fly.

A SIMPLE HOME MIXTURE

Tells of Valuable Home Prescription to Relieve Kidney Trouble Which Anyone
Can Prepare

Thousands of men and women who have felt the sting and torture of this dread disease, which is no respecter of age, persons, sex, color or rank, will be interested to know that while for many years rheumatism was considered an incurable disease, now it is one of the easiest afflictions of the human body to conquer. Medical science has proven it not a distinct disease in itself, but a symptom caused by inactive kidneys. Rheumatism is uric acid in the blood and other waste products of the system which should be filtered and strained out in the form of urine. The function of the kidneys is to sift these poisons and acids out and keep the blood keen and pure. The kidneys however are of sponge-like substance, the holes or pores of which will sometimes, either from overwork, cold or exposure become clogged and inactive, and failing in their function of eliminating these poisons from the blood, they remain in the veins, decompose and settling about the joints and muscles, cause the untold suffering and pain of rheumatism and backache, often producing complications of bladder and urinary disease, weakness, etc.

The following simple prescription is said to relieve the worst cases of rheumatism because of its direct action upon the blood and kidneys, relieving, too, the most severe forms of bladder and urinary troubles: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime. The ingredients can be had from any good prescription pharmacy, and are absolutely harmless and safe to use at any time.

RALSTON SHOES are different from other $4.00 shoes. You have only to try on a pair to learn this fact for yourself. You'll find that your feet feel as easy and comfortable as they did in the old pair of shoes which you took off. The reason for this is because the lasts over which RALSTON SHOES are made are exact models of your feet.

Instead of being flat across the bottom (like all other lasts) Ralston lasts are moulded into mounds and depressions to correspond to those of your feet. As a result RALSON SHOES have "sole" fit as well as upper fit. That's why they need no breaking in. Come in and let us show you.

Steerage Passenger Made Attempt on His Life.

OVERPOWERED BY SAILORS

Giuseppe Tosti Put in Irons and Placed in the Hold of the Steamer Hamburg—Insane Man Harbored Delusion That the Former President of the United States Was Trying to Poison Him.

Horta, Fayal Islands, the Azores, March 30.—In the Hamburg's steerage hold lies a man in chains who sought the life of Theodore Roosevelt, recently president of the United States. Only Mr. Roosevelt and a few of his fellow passengers know of this furious prisoner's existence.

As the steamer was losing sight of land, Giuseppe Tosti, a steerage passenger, broke from his companions and started for the upper deck, where

Mr. Roosevelt was standing with his son Kermit.

"He has let them take away my child," shouted Tosti in English. "Now, he shall pay for it."

Sailors seized Tosti, quickly mastered him, carried him below, and by the captain's orders, put him in irons.

For four days the prisoner refused to eat, constantly crying: "Roosevelt is trying to poison me."

Now the ship's doctor must taste all food offered to Tosti before he will eat it.

Mr. Roosevelt says he is not alarmed by any possible move of the "Black Hand" against him in Naples, but his friends will try to keep him from going ashore there.

At Mr. Roosevelt's request, the steamship Hamburg's course was changed to the Azores.

Her Inference.

"Now, I suppose," remarked Mrs. Snaggs, "that the surgeons of the army are attached to the medical corps."

"Your supposition does you great credit," replied Mr. Snaggs sarcastically. "It's a wonder you didn't imagine that doctors joined the army for the purpose of building bridges or going up in a balloon. Where should army surgeons be except in the medical corps?"

"Well, I thought that they might possibly belong to the lancets."—London Mail.

FIVE WOUNDED IN RACE RIOT

One American Miner May Die of His Injuries.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 30.—Five American miners are known to have been wounded, one of them perhaps fatally, in a race riot at the Bogle mines north of Jasonville. The battle started when Hungarian miners opened fire upon a delegation of American miners who went Jasonville to warn the foreigners to leave the mine.

The Hungarians are barricaded in one of their houses and are surrounded by several hundred Americans armed with revolvers and shotguns. The Hungarians are armed with old army rifles. The house which the foreigners have adopted as a stronghold has been riddled with bullets and it is thought that many of the foreigners have been wounded.

New York, March 30.—Sam Langford, the Boston black man, whose pugilistic aspirations are leading him in quest of the heavyweight championship title, in Brooklyn met and easily defeated Morris Harris, another negro. Harris was done for in the seventh round from a left hook to the jaw, and the referee humanely stopped the bout and prevented a knockout.

Says Bank Will Open

The Little Falls Herald is authority for the following statement:

"The Security State Bank of Brainerd will re-open its doors and resume business on April 6th, after being closed 90 days because of a large amount of paper signed by Andy Jones which it had taken as collateral for loans, and which became worthless when Jones, who was president of the Barton, N. D., bank, disappeared.

"The loss has been made good by a number of the directors of the bank, and none of the depositors of the bank will lose a cent. With the exception of a few changes in the make-up of the board of directors, the bank resumes business under the old management, President J. H. Guerin and Cashier E. A. Storck retaining their offices.

S. Trebbly of this city has returned from a several days business trip in Brainerd, and states that all those whom he had occasion to interview during his stay in Brainerd expressed confidence in the Security State bank and that they expected the bank to be a success.

"The Challenge"

Editor Daily Dispatch and Fellow Citizens:

"What He Really Would Do If Elected Mayor" seems to be the "paramount" question in yesterday's communication submitted by Mr. A. J. Halsted.

I will repeat in part what I said in my previous communication—"To the Citizens of Brainerd, I will say that if elected, I will appoint the Very Best Men Obtainable, on various public boards." I believe the average citizens, as well as the "intelligent" can understand this language. It includes every party and every citizen in Brainerd. I said further—"We want men who will work for the Best Interests of the City of Brainerd, and not for the 'interest' of a few."

In Mr. Halsted's editorial (Mayor Appoints Public Boards), he says—"With the problem of public ownership of the water supply and other public utilities confronting us we cannot afford to elect a mayor who 'WILL APPOINT' inexperienced and untried men to these responsible positions." Mr. Halsted: Do not dodge this question—Who said that I "will appoint" inexperienced and untried men to these responsible positions?

In your last communication you also say "The writer (A. J. Halsted) was told by gentlemen whose mere unsupported word is of more weight than a stack of Mr. Ousdahl's ever ready, and accommodatingly elastic affidavit, that when the question was pressed upon him as to these appointments he reluctantly admitted that he would be compelled to select men from his own political party. (And finally, active and influential members of the Socialist party, who are supporting Mr. Ousdahl's candidacy for mayor have assured me of the truth of this.

Mr. Halsted:—I only ask a fair treatment so do not dodge the question—Who made the above assertion?

I say it is not true, and the public should know the facts.

Yours respectfully,

A. OUSDHL.

Trebbly Says Boycott

The Little Falls Transcript says:

"A boycott is said to be in progress in the fuel line at Brainerd and as the result the S. Trebbly Fuel company is unable to get a new supply of coal. S. Trebbly, of this city, who recently purchased the H. H. Hitch Fuel company, has never joined the Fuel Dealers' association. This association which is made up of fuel dealers in this state and the Dakotas, governs the price of coal and all members abide by the price set. When Mr. Trebbly went into the fuel business at Brainerd, he dropped the price on coal on all cash orders and failed to join the dealers' association. His supply of some kinds of coal is now nearly exhausted and he finds that he is unable to replenish the nearly empty bins, for when he ordered a quantity of coal from a Duluth firm he was informed that his order could not be filled at the present time. He was also given a tip that non-association members find some difficulty in obtaining this particular kind of fuel.

Automobile Course For Farmers.

That agricultural colleges and schools are now giving courses in automobile matters to their students as part of the curriculum which is to prepare them for their practical duties in life constitutes a prophecy of how large the part of the motor car will be in farm life of the future, and also indicates the present interest which the more enterprising farmers feel in the motor propelled vehicle. Short course students at the Iowa State College at Des Moines, whose studies are chiefly on agricultural subjects, are to have an automobile lecture from a representative of an automobile company in Kenosha, Wis., while the Michigan State Agricultural School at Lansing, Mich., is to have a special course of instruction on automobile operation and repair.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Trying to Check What Appears Like General Epidemic

Tells of Valuable Home Prescription to Relieve Kidney Trouble Which Anyone Can Prepare

Thousands of men and women who have felt the sting and torture of this dread disease, which is no respecter of age, persons, sex, color or rank, will be interested to know that while for many years rheumatism was considered an incurable disease, now it is one of the easiest afflictions of the human body to conquer. Medical science has proven it not a distinct disease in itself, but a symptom caused by inactive kidneys. Rheumatism is uric acid in the blood and other waste products of the system which should be filtered and strained out in the form of urine. The function of the kidneys is to sift these poisons and acids out and keep the blood keen and pure. The kidneys however are of sponge-like substance, the holes or pores of which will sometimes, either from overwork, cold or exposure become clogged and inactive, and failing in their function of eliminating these poisons from the blood, they remain in the veins, decompose and settling about the joints and muscles, cause the untold suffering and pain of rheumatism and backache, often producing complications of bladder and urinary disease, weakness, etc.

The following simple prescription is said to relieve the worst cases of rheumatism because of its direct action upon the blood and kidneys, relieving, too, the most severe forms of bladder and urinary troubles: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime. The ingredients can be had from any good prescription pharmacy, and are absolutely harmless and safe to use at any time.

RALSTON SHOES are different from other $4.00 shoes. You have only to try on a pair to learn this fact for yourself. You'll find that your feet feel as easy and comfortable as they did in the old pair of shoes which you took off. The reason for this is because the lasts over which RALSTON SHOES are made are exact models of your feet.

Instead of being flat across the bottom (like all other lascs) Ralston lasts are moulded into mounds and depressions to correspond to those of your feet. As a result RALSON SHOES have "sole" fit as well as upper fit. That's why they need no breaking in. Come in and let us show you.

TRIED TO KILL ROOSEVELT

Steerage Passenger Made Attempt on His Life.

OVERPOWERED BY SAILORS

Giuseppe Tosti Put in Irons and Placed in the Hold of the Steamer Hamburg—Insane Man Harbored Delusion That the Former President of the United States Was Trying to Poison Him.

Horta, Fayal Islands, the Azores, March 30.—In the Hamburg's steerage hold lies a man in chains who sought the life of Theodore Roosevelt, recently president of the United States. Only Mr. Roosevelt and a few of his fellow passengers know of this furious prisoner's existence.

As the steamer was losing sight of land, Giuseppe Tosti, a steerage passenger, broke from his companions and started for the upper deck, where

Mr. Roosevelt was standing with his son Kermit.

"He has let them take away my child," shouted Tosti in English. "Now, he shall pay for it."

Sailors seized Tosti, quickly mastered him, carried him below, and by the captain's orders, put him in irons.

For four days the prisoner refused to eat, constantly crying: "Roosevelt is trying to poison me."

Now the ship's doctor must taste all food offered to Tosti before he will eat it.

Mr. Roosevelt says he is not alarmed by any possible move of the "Black Hand" against him in Naples, but his friends will try to keep him from going ashore there.

At Mr. Roosevelt's request, the steamship Hamburg's course was changed to the Azores.

Her Inference.

"Now, I suppose," remarked Mrs. Snaggs, "that the surgeons of the army are attached to the medical corps."

"Your supposition does you great credit," replied Mr. Snaggs sarcastically. "It's a wonder you didn't imagine that doctors joined the army for the purpose of building bridges or going up in a balloon. Where should army surgeons be except in the medical corps?"

"Well, I thought that they might possibly belong to the lancers."—London Mail.

FIVE WOUNDED IN RACE RIOT

One American Miner May Die of His Injuries.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 30.—Five American miners are known to have been wounded, one of them perhaps fatally, in a race riot at the Bogle mines north of Jasonville. The battle started when Hungarian miners opened fire upon a delegation of American miners who went Jasonville to warn the foreigners to leave the mine.

The Hungarians are barricaded in one of their houses and are surrounded by several hundred Americans armed with revolvers and shotguns. The Hungarians are armed with old army rifles. The house which the foreigners have adopted as a stronghold has been riddled with bullets and it is thought that many of the foreigners have been wounded.

New York, March 30.—Sam Langford, the Boston black man, whose pugilistic aspirations are leading him in quest of the heavyweight championship title, in Brooklyn met and easily defeated Morris Harris, another negro. Harris was done for in the seventh round from a left hook to the jaw, and the referee humanely stopped the bout and prevented a knockout.

Women of the Cabinet

Snapshots of the Charming Coterie That Will Assist Mrs. Taft In Presiding Over the World of Society at the National Capital.

By WALTON WILLIAMS.

THIS is a story about the cabinet and its wife. Rather, it is a story about the wife alone, for what is mere man that we should be mindful of him, especially in the social game? It is probable that the bunch of lawyers Taft has gathered around him will fuss more or less with affairs and get their names in the papers, but we all know, or at least we all should know, that their wives will run the real world of the capital, which is the world of society. As a matter of fact also, women have a whole lot to say about the politics of this small earth, and this is entirely apart from the suffragette movement. Woman, lovely woman, has had her finger in the political pie in France and England for years, and any one who imagines that she has not had her say about Uncle Sam's game does not know Washington. For this reason and others women of the cabinet have become quite a factor in our national life. The fact that Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Sherman rode in the inaugural parade is a sign of the times. They belonged there.

More than one official in Washington was made by his wife; also more than one official was unmade! Our mothers, wives and sisters do not know anything about the government of nations.

from the heaven of single blessedness before his term is over it will not be through lack of maneuvering to that end. He may be able to manage politicians and delegations, but he never has had to deal with the feminine politician and the damsel delegation.

As for the wives of the other cabinet officers, they are generally well known in Washington, and all of them are acquainted with Mrs. Taft, with whom they will be thrown into such close contact during the coming administration. Mrs. Philander Chase Knox, wife of the secretary of state, is already an old comrade of Mrs. Taft, having served with her in the Roosevelt cabinet, and they are mutually fond of each other. Their homes in K street were but a short distance apart, and they frequently made the Tuesday morning journey from their homes to the White House together. The home of the secretary and Mrs. Knox is delightfully located in K street, just off Sixteenth street, of Executive Avenue, or the Avenue of Presidents, as it is severally dubbed from time to time, and is but a few blocks from the White House. It is just a bit of a walk, which Mrs. Knox quite delights in. Having been on close terms with Mrs. Root, wife of the recent secretary of state, Mrs. Knox is already conversant with her husband to Pekin when he went there as a member of the commission to settle the Boxer troubles. She frequently visited at Washington the minister from Norway, Christian Hauge, who died a few years ago, and his charming wife, Mme. Hauge, whose relative she is.

A Washington Girl.

Going to Washington for Mrs. George W. Wickersham is almost like returning home, for it was there that she spent a considerable part of her happy girlhood. She has hosts of friends at the Capital City, who bespeak her constancy in that the friendships formed at her desk in school have held fast through all the more mature years of her life. Her father, Cornelius Wendell, went to Washington from Albany and lived in one of the spacious old fashioned residences in F street. As Mildred Wendell she attended Mme. Burr's fashionable school with the girls of her set, many of whom are now interested in her return as an official hostess.

There is no particular charm about the office of the postmaster general under Mr. Taft's administration. It is filled by a bachelor, the first to enter the cabinet in a long time. Frank H. Hitchcock is without hostess for his menage, but nevertheless he will annually entertain the president and Mrs. Taft at dinner and otherwise dispense the hospitality required of him. He will be the most sought for dinner guest in Washington, and if he ever dines at home, except when he entertains the president, it will not be the fault of fashionable matrons.

The Two Misses Meyer.

Mrs. George von Lengerke Meyer, wife of the retiring postmaster general, who has been selected to serve as secretary of the navy, is, like Mrs. Knox, already an experienced cabinet hostess and a friend of Mrs. Taft. Besides this, Mrs. Meyer has been presented at foreign courts, has lived in Rome, where her husband was ambassador, and was transferred from there to St. Petersburg, where through the hottest of Russian troubles he acquitted himself creditably. The two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Meyer, Miss Julia Meyer and Miss Alice Meyer, are almost of a size, and, though they do not look in the least alike, both have dark hair and eyes, and they are always dressed exactly alike. They have a natty little electric runabout, in which they shop and make calls, and they are seldom separated.

Nor is Mrs. Richard A. Ballinger a stranger to Washington. Her husband, who has been selected as secretary of the interior to fill the place left vacant by Mr. Garfield, was formerly connected with the general land office, and Washington was their home for some time. Her new duties will bring her more in touch with the official element of society, for which she is amply fitted.

Miss Wilson In Grand Opera.

Unless Miss Flora Wilson decides to give up the operatic stage, which she is likely to do, and become her father's hostess, as during the first years of his service as secretary of agriculture, there will be another cabinet member without a woman. Miss Wilson so ably acquitted herself during her official life that it is hoped she will return to it. She is a close friend to Mrs. Knox and knows Mrs. Taft. Mrs. Charles Nagel, whose husband has been chosen as secretary of commerce and labor, is a little known to Washington society, principally in the smart set, through her summer residence at Marion, Mass. She is a graceful and gracious hostess and will be heartily welcomed to the cabinet circle.

CRAZY SNAKE SURROUNDED

Expected That the Indian Chief Soon Will Be Caught.

SETTLERS FLEE FROM SCENE

Scores of White Families in the Vicinity of the Expected Battle Seek Safety in Flight—Colonel Hoffman Calls for Reinforcements to Further Strengthen the Line Around the Indian Band.

Oklahoma City, Okla., March 30.—Chitti Harjo (Crazy Snake) is surrounded in the north Canadian bottoms near Pierce. Three hundred militiamen, cowboys and deputy sheriffs are closing in upon him and his capture is soon expected.

Colonel Hoffman has called for reinforcements to strengthen his line, which is surrounding Crazy Snake. Scores of white families in the vicinity fled from their homes to escape the expected battle.

Scouts had been keeping in close touch with Crazy Snake all day and on information supplied by them the militia officers placed their forces in such a way as to drive the old Indian into the trap.

The news that he was encordoned by a wall of men who would not be likely to allow his escape was hurried into Camp Hickory by couriers. Immediately all was commotion. Believing that they had the main body of Indians trapped with the chief, the militiamen dispatched a large detachment to Pierce, fifteen miles distant, on forced march. These expect to reach there by sunrise and join in a final struggle with the old chieftain.

Colonel Hoffman was sure the Indians would fight, so all the troops went heavily armed and ammunition wagons brought up the rear. A big posse planned to start from Checotah on horseback at the first streaks of dawn and to join in the attack, meanwhile picking up any of the Snake's stragglers that might be encountered.

Colonel Hoffman issued orders that by no chance should Crazy Snake be allowed to slip through the lines, realizing that by his capture the expected mobilization and final stand of the Creeks might be averted. People for miles around rallied to the aid in the attack on the Indians, as great fear prevails within a radius of twenty-five miles from the Hickory grounds.

Deputies Attacked Indians.

A battle was expected at any moment during the day, but the only thing approaching it was an attack by deputies on a company of Indians in which one of the latter was killed, eight captured and Crazy Snake's home burned. The fire was started, deputies say, by a party of Indians that attention might be diverted from the attack near by.

About twenty-five Indians, mostly heavily armed, were captured during the day. Many of these were known to be prominent in the cause of Crazy Snake. They were kept under close guard and efforts were planned to force from them some of the secrets of the uprising.

The nerves of everybody in the affected districts have been on edge for hours. The people have not yet learned what it is to be beset by hostile Indians. They do not expect the trouble to last long, but live in momentary fear of outrages being committed by roving bands. They fear the negroes and halfbreeds really more than the Indians. Crazy Snake's men apparently planned no campaign of rapine and murder. Rather they sought a contest with the organized authorities of the state, taking what seemed to them the best method of redressing what they regarded as wrongs.

The negroes and halfbreeds, however, are regarded by the authorities as a bad lot. Almost any sort of outrage from them under cover of the present excitement would not cause surprise.

If it were not for the military skill and generalship of old Crazy Snake, a battle would have been fought Monday. This was what the militia wanted and also just what the chief was most anxious to avoid. Crazy Snake instead of concentrating his warriors divided them into bands of various sizes, sent them scurrying here and there, lost himself to the whites for the moment in the rugged country which he knew infinitely better than they and set about to carry on an organized campaign.

Governor Haskell and Adjutant General Ganton at Guthrie admitted the situation was most serious. General Ganton thought it would take ten days to crush the uprising. But this was before he learned that Crazy Snake was cornered.

Last of the Family Killed.

Waterloo, Ia., March 30.—Roy Farnum of Sumner, Ia., was killed while duck hunting. The death of Farnum is the last in a long chain of accidental fatalities that wipes out his family. Farnum's father was killed by a fall, his mother was accidentally shot, his brother was drowned and his sister was kicked to death by a horse, all within ten years.

TRIAL OF PATRICK CALHOUN

Claims Attention of Three Tribunals and a Score of Attorneys.

San Francisco, March 30.—Issues connected with the trial of Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, claimed the attention of three local tribunals, a score of attorneys and numerous detectives.

In a police court nine defendants appeared for arraignment upon charges of abstracting or receiving papers from the office of District Attorney Langdon.

There was a hearing later upon an injunction issued by Superior Judge Frank J. Muraskey.

Just before the Calhoun trial was adjourned for the day, George G. Gillespie, a contractor, was passed to occupy the twelfth seat in the jury box.

The police court proceedings were continued until Wednesday. The injunction hearing was prolonged until A. A. Moore, attorney for the United Railroads, had called Assistant District Attorney James L. Hanley "a lying dog." The court ordered the case continued because agents of the court would not admit service restraining them from searching the office of the United Railroads and destroying property of the corporation.

Judge William P. Lawler, who is presiding over the Calhoun trial, issued an order citing an unnamed defendant to appear before him and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt. He is a saloon keeper charged with improperly addressing one of the jurors passed temporarily last week.

"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are checked, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures and purifies the blood, thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by inclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

Death Signs In Holland.

The outward signs on the houses where some one has died in north Holland are original in the extreme. When the dead person is a Protestant, a long black mantle such as the undertaker wears when he goes to the grave is hung in the middle of the front door. In the case of a Roman Catholic a tall black cross is placed on the doorstep.

FIVE OF MRS. TAFT'S SOCIAL CABINET

Oh, no! But they do know all about the government of men, and in this way they rule the rulers, govern the governors and manipulate the manipulators. Those pink teas are not merely ornamental, Washington dinners and receptions, dances and social chats have seen many little twists given to world politics. A quiet word from feminine lips has pigeonholed bills in congress. The bureaucracy that has run the army and navy, if reports say true, has not all been a male affair. Women are natural diplomats and masters of finesse and intrigue. They may not vote, but they vote the voters. They may not be elected or appointed to hold office, but reign by divine right.

Hitchcock a Bachelor.

Since the days of Washington till now the women of the cabinet have played their part in Washington life. The part grows with the years. In the beginning of the twentieth century it is bigger than it was in the nineteenth century. As for the present cabinet, it contains a disparity, for, while there are nine members, they have only seven wives. Wilson is a widower and Hitchcock a bachelor. The daughter of the secretary of agriculture, Miss Flora Wilson, will probably make up the defect in his case, and, as for poor Hitchcock, if some designing mamma does not remove him duties, and, as for the cabinet customs generally, no one knows them better.

Capital Knows MacVeaghs.

Mrs. Franklin MacVeagh, who will stand next to Mrs. Knox at the White House, is already acquainted with the smart set in Washington through her frequent visits to her brother-in-law, Wayne MacVeagh, and his family at their home in Massachusetts avenue. Before marriage Mrs. MacVeagh was Miss Emily Eames of New England, and Eames MacVeagh, the son of the house, bears the family name. Mr. and Mrs. MacVeagh are familiar with the Washington summer residents in New England, as they own a delightful home, Knollwood, at Dublin, N. H., where many of them live. They have a large fortune and are expected to entertain lavishly.

Mrs. Dickinson, wife of Jacob McGavock Dickinson, chosen for secretary of war, is a southern woman of much grace and tact and possesses to a marked degree the hospitality which makes the women of her section of country famous. While Judge Dickinson practiced law in Memphis, Tenn., as the partner of the former secretary of war she reigned as a social leader, and her departure from there was keenly regretted. She is a much traveled woman and has been over almost the entire world. She accompanied her

Snapshots of the Charming Coterie That Will Assist Mrs. Taft in Presiding Over the World of Society at the National Capital.

By WALTON WILLIAMS.

THIS is a story about the cabinet and its wife. Rather, it is a story about the wife alone, for what is mere man that we should be mindful of him, especially in the social game? It is probable that the bunch of lawyers Taft has gathered around him will fuss more or less with affairs and get their names in the papers, but we all know, or at least we all should know, that their wives will run the real world of the capital, which is the world of society. As a matter of fact also, women have a whole lot to say about the politics of this small earth, and this is entirely apart from the suffragette movement. Woman, lovely woman, has had her finger in the political pie in France and England for years, and any one who imagines that she has not had her say about Uncle Sam's game does not know Washington. For this reason and others women of the cabinet have become quite a factor in our national life. The fact that Mrs. Taft and Mrs. Sherman rode in the inaugural parade is a sign of the times. They belonged there.

More than one official in Washington was made by his wife; also more than one official was unmade! Our mothers, wives and sisters do not know anything about the government of nations.

from the heaven of single blessedness before his term is over it will not be through lack of maneuvering to that end. He may be able to manage politicians and delegations, but he never has had to deal with the feminine politician and the damsel delegation.

As for the wives of the other cabinet officers, they are generally well known in Washington, and all of them are acquainted with Mrs. Taft, with whom they will be thrown into such close contact during the coming administration. Mrs. Philander Chase Knox, wife of the secretary of state, is already an old comrade of Mrs. Taft, having served with her in the Roosevelt cabinet, and they are mutually fond of each other. Their houses in K street were but a short distance apart, and they frequently made the Tuesday morning journey from their homes to the White House together. The home of the secretary and Mrs. Knox is delightfully located in K street, just off Sixteenth street, of Executive Avenue, or the Avenue of Presidents, as it is severally dubbed from time to time, and is but a few blocks from the White House. It is just a bit of a walk, which Mrs. Knox quite delights in. Having been on close terms with Mrs. Root, wife of the recent secretary of state, Mrs. Knox is already conversant with her husband to Pekin when he went there as a member of the commission to settle the Boxer troubles. She frequently visited at Washington the minister from Norway, Christian Hauge, who died a few years ago, and his charming wife, Mme. Hauge, whose relative she is.

A Washington Girl.

Going to Washington for Mrs. George W. Wickersham is almost like returning home, for it was there that she spent a considerable part of her happy girlhood. She has hosts of friends at the Capital City, who bespeak her constancy in that the friendships formed at her desk in school have held fast through all the more mature years of her life. Her father, Cornelius Wendell, went to Washington from Albany and lived in one of the spacious old fashioned residences in F street. As Mildred Wendell she attended Mme. Burr's fashionable school with the girls of her set, many of whom are now interested in her return as an official hostess.

There is no particular charm about the office of the postmaster general under Mr. Taft's administration. It is filled by a bachelor, the first to enter the cabinet in a long time. Frank H. Hitchcock is without hostess for his menage, but nevertheless he will annually entertain the president and Mrs. Taft at dinner and otherwise dispense the hospitality required of him. He will be the most sought for dinner guest in Washington, and if he ever dines at home, except when he entertains the president, it will not be the fault of fashionable matrons.

The Two Misses Meyer.

Mrs. George von Lengerke Meyer, wife of the retiring postmaster general, who has been selected to serve as secretary of the navy, is, like Mrs. Knox, already an experienced cabinet hostess and a friend of Mrs. Taft. Besides this, Mrs. Meyer has been presented at foreign courts, has lived in Rome, where her husband was ambassador, and was transferred from there to St. Petersburg, where through the hottest of Russian troubles he acquitted himself creditably. The two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Meyer, Miss Julia Meyer and Miss Alice Meyer, are almost of a size, and, though they do not look in the least alike, both have dark hair and eyes, and they are always dressed exactly alike. They have a natty little electric runabout, in which they shop and make calls, and they are seldom separated.

Nor is Mrs. Richard A. Ballinger a stranger to Washington. Her husband, who has been selected as secretary of the interior to fill the place left vacant by Mr. Garfield, was formerly connected with the general land office, and Washington was their home for some time. Her new duties will bring her more in touch with the official element of society, for which she is amply fitted.

Miss Wilson in Grand Opera.

Unless Miss Flora Wilson decides to give up the operatic stage, which she is likely to do, and become her father's hostess, as during the first years of his service as secretary of agriculture, there will be another cabinet member without a woman. Miss Wilson so ably acquitted herself during her official life that it is hoped she will return to it. She is a close friend to Mrs. Knox and knows Mrs. Taft.

Mrs. Charles Nagel, whose husband has been chosen as secretary of commerce and labor, is a little known to Washington society, principally in the smart set, through her summer residence at Marlon, Mass. She is a graceful and gracious hostess and will be heartily welcomed to the cabinet circle.

CRAZY SNAKE SURROUNDED

Expected That the Indian Chief Soon Will Be Caught.

SETTLERS FLEE FROM SCENE

Scores of White Families in the Vicinity of the Expected Battle Seek Safety in Flight—Colonel Hoffman Calls for Reinforcements to Further Strengthen the Line Around the Indian Band.

Oklahoma City, Okla., March 30.—Chittl Harjo (Crazy Snake) is surrounded in the north Canadian bottoms near Pierce. Three hundred militiamen, cowboys and deputy sheriffs are closing in upon him and his capture is soon expected.

Colonel Hoffman has called for reinforcements to strengthen his line, which is surrounding Crazy Snake. Scores of white families in the vicinity fled from their homes to escape the expected battle.

Scouts had been keeping in close touch with Crazy Snake all day and on information supplied by them the militia officers placed their forces in such a way as to drive the old Indian into the trap.

The news that he was encircled by a wall of men who would not be likely to allow his escape was hurried into Camp Hickory by couriers. Immediately all was commotion. Believing that they had the main body of Indians trapped with the chief, the militiamen dispatched a large detachment to Pierce, fifteen miles distant, on forced march. These expect to reach there by sunrise and join in a final struggle with the old chieftain.

Colonel Hoffman was sure the Indians would fight, so all the troops went heavily armed and ammunition wagons brought up the rear. A big posse planned to start from Checotah on horseback at the first streaks of dawn and to join in the attack, meanwhile picking up any of the Snake's stragglers that might be encountered.

Colonel Hoffman issued orders that by no chance should Crazy Snake be allowed to slip through the lines, realizing that by his capture the expected mobilization and final stand of the Creeks might be averted. People for miles around rallied to the aid in the attack on the Indians, as great fear prevails within a radius of twenty-five miles from the Hickory grounds.

Deputies Attacked Indians.

A battle was expected at any moment during the day, but the only thing approaching it was an attack by deputies on a company of Indians in which one of the latter was killed, eight captured and Crazy Snake's home burned. The fire was started, deputies say, by a party of Indians that attention might be diverted from the attack near by.

About twenty-five Indians, mostly heavily armed, were captured during the day. Many of these were known to be prominent in the cause of Crazy Snake. They were kept under close guard and efforts were planned to force from them some of the secrets of the uprising.

The nerves of everybody in the affected districts have been on edge for hours. The people have not yet learned what it is to be beset by hostile Indians. They do not expect the trouble to last long, but live in momentary fear of outrages being committed by roving bands. They fear the negroes and halfbreeds really more than the Indians. Crazy Snake's men apparently planned no campaign of rapine and murder. Rather they sought a contest with the organized authorities of the state, taking what seemed to them the best method of redressing what they regarded as wrongs.

The negroes and halfbreeds, however, are regarded by the authorities as a bad lot. Almost any sort of outrage from them under cover of the present excitement would not cause surprise.

If it were not for the military skill and generalship of old Crazy Snake, a battle would have been fought Monday. This was what the militia wanted and also just what the chief was most anxious to avoid. Crazy Snake instead of concentrating his warriors divided them into bands of various sizes, sent them scurrying here and there, lost himself to the whites for the moment in the rugged country which he knew infinitely better than they and set about to carry on an organized campaign.

Governor Haskell and Adjutant General Ganton at Guthrie admitted the situation was most serious. General Ganton thought it would take ten days to crush the uprising. But this was before he learned that Crazy Snake was cornered.

Last of the Family Killed.

Waterloo, Ia., March 30.—Roy Farnum of Sumner, Ia., was killed while duck hunting. The death of Farnum is the last in a long chain of accidental fatalities that wipes out his family. Farnum's father was killed by a fall, his mother was accidentally shot, his brother was drowned and his sister was kicked to death by a horse, all within ten years.

TRIAL OF PATRICK CALHOUN

Claims Attention of Three Tribunals and a Score of Attorneys.

San Francisco, March 30.—Issues connected with the trial of Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, claimed the attention of three local tribunals, a score of attorneys and numerous detectives.

In a police court nine defendants appeared for arraignment upon charges of abstracting or receiving papers from the office of District Attorney Langdon.

There was a hearing later upon an injunction issued by Superior Judge Frank J. Muraskey.

Just before the Calhoun trial was adjourned for the day, George G. Gillespie, a contractor, was passed to occupy the twelfth seat in the jury box.

The police court proceedings were continued until Wednesday. The injunction hearing was prolonged until A. A. Moore, attorney for the United Railroads, had called Assistant District Attorney James L. Hanley "a lying dog." The court ordered the case continued because agents of the court would not admit service restraining them from searching the office of the United Railroads and destroying property of the corporation.

Judge William P. Lawler, who is presiding over the Calhoun trial, issued an order citing an unnamed defendant to appear before him and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt. He is a saloon keeper charged with improperly addressing one of the jurors passed temporarily last week.

"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures and purifies the blood thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by enclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.
